

CYFI's Network Response Program (CNRP)

Introduction

The CYFI Network Response Program (CNRP) is a new initiative created by the Child and Youth Finance International Secretariat with the aim to assist organizations and institutions across the world to develop and implement financial inclusion and education policies and programs at the national and local level. The purpose of this service is to connect organizations needing technical support with CYFI or CYFI-related consultants who have the necessary expertise to help organizations reach their maximum potential.

To whom is CNRP targeted?

In collaboration with its network of consultants, and with its theoretical frameworks, CYFI will be able to help the following organizations and institutions with these types of requests:

- National Education Authorities looking for consulting in order to design and implement a national program and/or incorporate elements of (Economic Citizenship Education (ECE) into the formal education system.
- National Financial Authorities also looking for consulting in order to design implement a national financial inclusion program and introduce child and youth friendly banking regulations.
- Civil Society Organizations working on the general themes of financial inclusion and/or education of children and youth. They can come with requests to improve their existing programs or use the CYFI network and expertise to develop new business opportunities through new country programming.
- Private Sector Representatives (financial service providers and other corporate entities) who wish to become more child and youth friendly by adapting products and services or by launching an integrated program for financial access and educational services.

Becoming part of the CNRP network

If you are committed to the Child and Youth Finance Movement's goal of empowering young people around the world by increasing their financial capability, enhancing their awareness of social and economic rights and improving their access to appropriate financial services, then please join us and become a member of the CNRP network! We are seeking ambitious and motivated members to join us in empowering youth globally!

How can you benefit from the CNRP?

- The CNRP can provide you with business opportunities, as the CYFI Secretariat will recommend you to clients and projects most relevant to your skills, experience, and price range.
- As a member of the CNRP, you will receive an official CNRP Certificate, which proves that you are in line with, and contributing to CYFI's goals and activities.
- Registration to the Network Response Program is free of charge.

Consultant Qualifications

There are various consultant profiles we are looking for in order to respond appropriately to various requests, ranging from designing national financial education curricula, to assisting private sector representatives in offering child and youth financial products.

Your expertise can be in topics including, but not limited to:

- Education (teacher training, curriculum development, curriculum assessment, education regulation, workshop facilitation, financial education programming, vocational training, etc.)
- Finance (product development, financial regulation, non-formal savings and loans associations, integrated financial and educational services, etc.)
- Project management (stakeholder engagement, strategic planning, youth project management/coordination, impact assessment, etc.)
- Communications (marketing, technological platforms for education or financial services, translation, etc.)

CYFI expects that CNRP Associates not only possess expertise and experience on subjects such as those listed above, but also adhere to CYFI's goals and methodology. All work done by CNRP consultants will be considered CYFI projects and be part of the CNRP Package which includes existing CYFI frameworks, such as the Guide to Economic Citizenship and the Child and Youth Friendly Banking Principles. This package incorporates all theoretical and practical aspects of the CNRP, from the analysis and consulting to the production and implementation of financial inclusion/education program.

For more information, contact:

Sofia Lorena Ortega Tineo

Evaluation and Network Response Manager

Child & Youth Finance International

E sofia@childfinance.org

www.childfinanceinternational.org

Are you interested in becoming a CNRP member? Fill out the online form here:

<http://www.surveygizmo.com/s3/1565267/CNRP-Associate-Profile>

Child & Youth Finance International

(CYFI) leads the world's most extensive child and youth finance Network, that together makes up the Child and Youth Finance Movement. We connect Ministries and Governments, CEOs, heads of NGOs, financial institutions and young people. By aligning and coordinating efforts of organizations all over the world the Movement is able to share resources, model best practices and empower each other to reach children and youth with financial inclusion and Economic Citizenship Education. By doing this we aim to give the adults of tomorrow the tools to lead lives free from poverty and financial instability.

Stay connected with us

www.childfinanceinternational.org

Child and Youth Finance International

PO Box 16524 • 1001 RA Amsterdam

• Netherlands • + 31(0)20 5203900

Facebook: ChildFinance

Twitter: @ChildFinance

LinkedIn: Child and Youth Finance International

To read our publications, please visit:

www.childfinanceinternational.org/movement/publications