

CYFI Network Response Program (CNRP)

About CYFI Network Response Program

The CYFI Network Response Program (CNRP) connects CYFI affiliated consultants with organizations and institutions across the world that seek technical assistance in promoting and implementing economic citizenship at the national and local levels. The purpose of the CNRP is to leverage the expertise of the CYFI network by connecting organizations seeking technical assistance in the formulation, design and implementation of policies and programs to those who are well-equipped to help them to reach their maximum potential.

The CNRP offers the possibility to connect with experts from all over the world, using the CYFI Secretariat as a trusted quality assurance partner. Additionally, the CNRP seeks to ensure the sustainability of the Child and Youth Finance Movement by building a solid and long-lasting collaboration mechanism that allows for scalable and impactful programs and policies.

How Can You Benefit from CNRP?

There are numerous benefits of joining the CNRP. Besides offering access to a wide range of professionals with diverse skills, regional experience and language capability, the CNRP distinguishes itself with a global network focussed on children and youth, flexibility and attractive pricing. In general, the CNRP can help organizations in:

- Supporting the collective effort to create a legal and regulatory framework favourable to financial inclusion and education for children and youth at both the local and global level.
- Working towards economic and social empowerment of, and eradication of poverty among, children and youth through the creation of new and innovative financial products.
- Promoting the development of social and financial capabilities among children and youth in order to create a new generation of more actively engaged economic citizens.

More specifically, our network can help a wide variety of organisations with different types of requests, for instance:

- National Education Authorities looking for support to design and implement a national program and/or incorporate elements of (Economic Citizenship Education) into the formal education system.
- National Financial Authorities looking for support to design and implement a national financial inclusion program and introduce child and youth friendly banking regulations.
- Civil Society Organizations working on the general themes of financial inclusion and/or education of children and youth looking for support to improve their existing programs to develop new business opportunities.

- Private Sector Representatives (financial service providers and other corporate entities) who wish to become more child and youth friendly by adapting products and services or by launching an integrated program for financial access and educational services.

How Does CNRP Work?

The CNRP contracting process consists of a set of easy-to-follow steps (see the graph below):

- A client submits a request form online for services from the CNRP.
- CYFI provides the client with relevant documents detailing formal terms and conditions and other relevant information on the CNRP.
- CYFI performs an internal assessment of the request for advisory services and determines whether it will carry out the project with CYFI Secretariat staff or sub-contract suitable external consultant affiliated with the CNRP.
- A consultancy contract is agreed on and signed on behalf of CYFI with the consultant.
- Once the project is executed, it enters the closing stage including discussions on follow-up procedures between the client, the consultant and CYFI.

Child & Youth Finance International (CYFI) leads the world's most extensive child and youth finance network that together makes up the Child and Youth Finance Movement. We connect Ministries and Governments, CEOs, heads of NGOs, financial institutions and young people. By aligning and coordinating efforts of organizations all over the world the Movement is able to share resources, model best practices and empower each other to reach children and youth with financial inclusion and Economic Citizenship Education. By doing this we aim to give the adults of tomorrow the tools to lead lives free from poverty and financial instability.
